

Forever Wars:

America must end the forever wars, nation building, and avoid entangling alliances. Proxy wars & needless meddling with nuclear nations poses a significant threat to us all. The executive branch has too much power allowing it to plunge us into wars without understanding the issues, history, having realistic objectives, or an exit plan. The constitution requires that congress declare war, if necessary. The War Powers Act must be ended and this authority returned to congress. The endless wars are bankrupting the nation, creating humanitarian and immigration disasters, and putting our military at needless risk. Our military should only be used for strong national defense and should be home defending our borders. The military industrial complex and its lobby must be restrained and we need to bring our troops home.

I am also an adamant supporter of Defend the Guard.
